

Stoneham Reads is Reading Americanah by Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie for discussion in our virtual book groups this spring. Go to Stoneham Reads; scroll down for more information and click on Register Now! to sign up for a book group in March, April or May.

This is a free offering; Stoneham Reads is a project of the non-profit, Stoneham Community Development Corporation (CDC).

The national bestseller is the story of two Nigerians making their way in the US and the UK. Fearless, gripping, at once darkly funny and tender, spanning three continents and numerous lives, Americanah is a richly told story set in today's globalized world. It raises universal questions of race, belonging, the overseas experience for the African diaspora, and the search for identity and a home.

Stoneham Reads brings people together to discuss a common book to inspire thoughtful conversations, build connections and strengthen our community.

- You are invited: Stoneham residents are welcome – and may also invite and share with anyone living outside Stoneham or Massachusetts.
- Ways to participate: People are invited to participate by attending virtual book groups in March, April, and May, and posting on social media, Facebook and Instagram.
- Send us a photo of you reading Americanah to stonehamreads@stonehamcdc.org.
- Pick up a copy of Americanah: Copies of the book, e-book, and audiobook are available at Stoneham Public Library and local indie bookstore The Book Oasis.

Stoneham Reads is a community-building project in Stoneham, MA. All are invited to read the same book and participate in related activities to foster connections, promote an appreciation of our town and have fun. Stoneham Reads aims to build bridges by promoting reading, critical thinking and community connection. As we join in reading and talking and learning together, we feel we can make Stoneham a better place for all to live. The project is collaboration among town residents and community groups, sponsored by the Stoneham Community Development Corporation and Stoneham Public Library.

Follow us on social media:
Facebook Stoneham Reads
Instagram @StonehamReads

